

The 3rd Business Innovation Conference Announces Call for Papers (Abstracts due by July 15, 2010)

The 3rd Business Innovation Conference is inviting proposals for presentations, and hands-on professional learning workshops. We invite technical and business professionals to share their innovations and case studies.

The conference takes place on October 4 – 6 at Illinois Institute of Technology in Wheaton, Illinois. This year we will discuss and advance innovation in the key areas of interest to society; including Healthcare Innovations, Manufacturing Innovations, and Innovation Science.

Keynote speakers for the 3rd Business Innovation Conference include Chris Galvin, CEO, Harrison Street, and former Chairman/CEO of Motorola; Jean Holley, Chief Information Officer, Tellabs; Hardik Bhatt, Chief Information Officer, City of Chicago; Gerald Haman, President and Founder of The Thinkubator Innovation Center; and Steve Shapiro, Chief Innovation Officer, Innocentive.

Day 1 offers the following six three-hour workshops:

- Social Networking for Innovation
- Producing Design Innovations
- Delivering Healthcare Innovations
- Creating New Businesses
- Generating Technology Innovations
- Accelerating Manufacturing Innovations

Following the workshops, the two-day conference features 50-minute paper presentations in three tracks. Presentations will be accepted along the lines of topics listed on the conference agenda at www.businessinnovationconference.com.

- Deadline for presentation abstracts - July 15, 2010
- Deadline for Workshop proposals - July 15, 2010
- Presentation and Workshop Selection - August 15, 2010

The conference organizing committee seeks participation of sponsors and exhibitors for promoting their organization and innovative solutions. Please contact Praveen Gupta gupta@iit.edu or Scott Pfeiffer at pfeiffer@iit.edu for more information.

For questions, please visit the conference website www.businessinnovationconference.com, or contact the conference Chair, Praveen Gupta at gupta@iit.edu.